Description

Live in the first private bio-intelligent neighborhood in Uruguay, where you can enjoy nature without leaving the city. With the possibility of controlling your home from your cell phone, using renewable energy and even producing your own food in a collaborative organic garden, this is a unique opportunity to live in harmony with the environment.

In this exclusive development, each client can opt for houses with already defined models, personalizing them to give them a unique identity, or design their own project from scratch.

There are a total of 270 lots of approximately 900 m² each.

The price of this publication corresponds to a perimeter lot of 847 m² of land, with a brand new property of 125 m² built and 44 m² of open covered spaces, includes barbecue and pergola. The house has 3 bedrooms, including a master suite, a wood-burning stove in the living-dining room, an integrated kitchen and DVH glass openings. In addition, all the houses are delivered with a 6*3 meter pool.

See other options for lots with a view of the lake or located in central areas, as well as different sizes of houses up to 200 m².

The quality of the finishes are outstanding, and the houses are delivered with an oven, stove, hood, wood stove, air conditioning forecast, underfloor heating and central heating by heat pump, home automation, solar panels, barbecue with pergola, oven Firewood, outdoor stove, electric car charger, closets in bedrooms and kitchen, swimming pool and landscaping design project included.

The neighborhood has a wide variety of amenities, such as a Club House, multi-sports courts, a running circuit, a gym, and a closed swimming pool.

The location is convenient, with easy access to Carrasco and Portones, and the cost of common expenses is approximately $10,000.

In addition, each client has the option of choosing the porcelain tiles at Bosch & Cia and personalizing their kitchen. Modifications to the included materials will have an additional cost.

The forms of payment include cash, mortgage loan or 100% financed with construction in 2 years, and in all cases a reserve of 10% of the total price of the land is required. Consult for more information.

The delivery time of the house is 18 months, giving you the necessary time to plan your move and start enjoying this unique life experience in a natural and sustainable environment. Don't miss the opportunity to be part of this innovative project and contact us today for more information.
